Sustainable Resources

Our new bamboo skewers are a more exciting, contemporary and profitable alternative to traditional wooden cocktail sticks and skewers. Enhancing the dining experience, they are highly desirable to a wide-ranging marketplace. From hotels, corporate functions and private parties to sampling in store, you will find customers from many different areas, interested in such products.

They also offer the opportunity for good profits, occupying a position at the higher end of the market than standard wooden cocktail sticks, but remaining compact enough to not take up too much valuable shelf and storage space.

Like all wooden products, bamboo is attractive from an environmental point of view. It is one of the fastest growing plants and is an enduring natural resource. As more and more businesses are placed under pressure to minimise their environmental impact, bamboo is the perfect solution.
